NOTICE TO PRINTERS.

THE proprietors of the Baltimore Type Foundry having completed their Specimen of Type, beg leave to offer it to the attention of Printers throughout the United States, and although their variety is not extensive, yet they feel confident, that among their letter will be found the most approved fashions now in use, which it is their intention to add to, by procuring any new cut of letter that may appear. The type cast by machinery being found superior to that cast by hand, the proprietors have introduced into their Foundry the machines invented and made by Mr. Edwin Starr, who has the superintendence of the Foundry, and whose long experience and capability in this branch of business, justify their saying, that the type made at the Baltimore Foundry will be found equal in durability and finish, in every respect, to any other made in the country, and respectfully solicit orders for the same, which will always meet with prompt attention.
